

In Plant Offices

Add Office Capacity in a Flash

Tired of bumping into your colleagues? Sick of the bruises left from bumping into chairs and desks? It may be time to add some office space.

Building offices using stick frame, traditional, construction takes a lot of time and makes a considerable mess. With our modular in-plant office systems, on site construction is minimized to an assembly operation. All materials are cut, fit, and marked at the factory, then simply assembled at your site.

Traditional construction, besides taking a long time to do, takes a long time to write off; 39 years to be precise. Our Modular In Plant Office Systems are eligible for 7 year depreciation, or even current year write off under Section 179 of the Internal Revenue Code, which, by our math, is a lot less time on your books.

If you have questions, or need help specifying your office, call your salesperson or customer service at 800.777.0600.

Why consider in plant offices?

- Reusable materials
- Quick setup and completion
- Flexible and versatile construction
- Resizing and relocating are no problem
- Internal Revenue Code Section 179 eligible
- 7 year depreciation vs 39 years for conventional construction
